

Great Luck for English Teachers: The Helen Doron Educational Group Is Hiring More English Teachers Worldwide

Helen Doron Early English (helendoron.com), is experiencing a growth surge, and currently seeks new English teachers for many of their Learning Centres in Europe, Asia and around the world.

London, UK (PRWEB) November 15, 2007 -- Highly trained teachers, quality learning materials and outstanding business practices are built-in to the Helen Doron Brand. "We have welcome news for many ESL and EFL teachers located in both Europe and Asia", explains Anne Gordon, VP Business Development at Helen Doron. "These are our most recent areas of expansion and we have a pressing need to fill teaching positions here."

Helen Doron Early English provides exciting, age-appropriate English learning programs for children from 3 months to 14 years, based on over 20 years proven top-level pedagogic methodology. "We've always been able to attract great people," continues Anne, "and they reap special rewards when they become qualified Helen Doron Early English teachers. We have a wealth of experience operating international Learning Centres in over 23 countries, and we're growing steadily."

The CEO of the highly successful Helen Doron Educational Group discusses the truly unique nature of the Helen Doron Early English methodology. "Our children learn English in the 'Natural' way, by absorbing English exactly as they learn their mother tongue: by repeated hearing and positive feedback," explains Helen Doron. "Our exclusive learning sets include books and CDs that inspire children through song, music, movement, games, special activities and more. Our teachers nurture children's natural inclination to learn through positive reinforcement and offer support that builds self esteem and enhances confidence."

The need for English language teachers is ever increasing worldwide, and teachers can ensure things go smoothly when they're working with a reputable company with a proven track record. Helen Doron provides teachers with quality training and high level learning materials. The syllabus is mapped out lesson by lesson; so teachers always know what they should be doing with the children; yet still have plenty of room for creativity. Teacher support includes 24/7 customer service reps, in-depth guidelines, seminars, forums and a networking system that keeps all Helen Doron teachers in touch and sharing information around the world.

Helen Doron Early English also offers franchise opportunities for those with an interest in business and the desire to improve children's lives around the world. "Helen Doron is seeking teachers with strong marketing abilities and a good business brain to become franchisees," says Anne Gordon. "There's a huge potential for success in starting a Helen Doron Franchise, and becoming part of a bigger worldwide success story that's going strong. MathRiders, our mathematics program for ages 4-18, is also recruiting master franchisors."

Parents from many different cultures agree about one thing; having a good command of the English language is their children's best bet for success in life. Helen Doron Early English offers a total of 12 courses in English for children: 7 years of spoken English (with optional reading and writing) for infants and younger children, and 3 years of speaking, reading and writing for older children, plus additional school courses for grades 1 & 2.
